Specification

1. The brief description and any detailed description of Figures 11 and 12 are missing from the specification. Further, please check the specification for spacing errors (see page 11, line 11, "liquid70" should be "liquid 70"). On page 12, line 10, it appears that "dip 2" should be "dip tube".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 20 unduly repeats the limitations of claim 9. It appears that claim 20 should depend from claim 19 and not 8.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3, 5-14 and 16-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gaiser et al. '160.

Gaiser et al. shows a circular base member 20 having a top and bottom; orifice 22 with a separator tube surrounding it extending from the bottom of 20; mixing rib 26 extending down and away from the bottom (underside) of 20, the rib being spike shaped as it angles downwardly towards a point and the rib can also be considered to be a fin; opening 38; and attaching means as threads 16.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 4 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gaiser et al. '160.

Gaiser et al. has been discussed above, but lacks a plurality of ribs. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a plurality of ribs on the device of Gaiser et al. as it is a multiple use of an already employed structure that would further enhance mixing.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Gaiser et al. '186; Hu, Chen, Yoshimura et al., and Train show other dispensing devices with separators and/or mixers.
